GENERAL NEWS.

O'Grady, the absconding president of the failed Elkhorn Valley Bank, of O'Neill, Neb., has been caught in Arizona. Patrick Hagerty, the cashier, is still missing.

The government of Turkey has put up the collateral for a loan of $15,000,000 with which to purchase artillery of the latest type—mostly quick-firing guns.

Five boys between 10 and 14 years of age, are under arrest in Brooklyn, N. Y., charged with setting 15 fires during the past five months. Two of the boys have confessed.

The only daughter of Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, was badly burned by her clothes catching fire from an open grate at the home of a friend in Atlanta. Her limbs were badly scorched, but she will readily recover.

Typhoid fever is epidemic among Southern Pacific employees in Southern Oregon and Northern California. It is attributed to tank water, and a systematic and thorough renovation of the water supply all along the line is being made.

James A. Goodfellow, aged 24, a brakeman in the terminal yards at Portland, was crushed to death by the cars December 20. He could not talk when found, and died in a short time and as no one saw the accident, it goes unexplained.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

J. H. Delano, United States custom house collector at Tacoma, dropped dead on the street December 20.

Hans Hansen was instantly killed December 19 near Everett, Wash., by a rock slide while engaged with other workmen in removing a previous slide.

There is an epidemic of robberies in the Seattle Tenderloin district, and no apparent dearth of patrons of the district to get separated from their money.

Six contraband Japanese captured while in the act of landing at Seattle, will be deported to British Columbia, from whence they came to Washington.

A barn that had been standing 45 years on the A. Hackelman farm, near Albany, Or., burned the night of December 19. It had long been a rendezvous for tramps.

At Everett, Wash., December 19, Sammy Worden, aged 2, died in great agony three hours after his aunt forced a dose of acetone down his throat. The aunt is near-sighted and had the wrong bottle.

A colored man, apparently about 40 years old, was found December 20 floating in the bay at Seattle. The apparent evidence is that he was first robbed and then knocked on the head and thrown into the water.

United States Assayer Walker has just completed the assay of tunc from the Tumwater, near Leavenworth, Wash. The ore runs $20,000 of gold per ton, and local belief has it that it has not been salted. Complete confirmation of the find will start a great rush to the Tumwater.

W. H. Whorton, a Portland landscape gardener, disappeared several months ago. Nothing was heard from or about him until December 19, when he turned up in a Seattle hospital, weak and sick, but in his right mind. His memory is an absolute blank about all that has happened to him since he disappeared last summer until the 19th inst.

There are but very few desirable vacant lots left in the residence portion of Pendleton. These we have just listed and the prices are very reasonable.

We have a new list of residences for sale. Come and see us, and look over our list.

We have anything that you want in country property.

HICKS' FORECASTS

WEATHER PROGNOSTICATIONS FOR COMING WINTER.

January Storm Periods Will Be Severe in the Northwest—Highest Tide of Severe Winter Weather Will Be Reached on January 22 to 25—Blizzards, Sleet and Cold Winds Will Visit the Northwest—February Promises But Little Severe Weather.

The many devotees and followers of Rev. I. R. Hicks in Umatilla county and Eastern Oregon, will be interested in his forecasts for the coming winter months.

In his almanac for 1935, he gives his usual outline of the weather, which will prove interesting to those who have hay to buy, stock to feed or other business to look after, which may be influenced by the weather.

The first snowstorm for January extends from the 4th to the 6th, but is not severe in the West. The general direction of the storms will be eastward, and heavy winds and rains will visit the Northwest. Immediately following this period, which will come to a close on the 6th, will be a cold snap, extreme in some localities of the West, but it will be of short duration.

The second January storm period will extend from the 9th to the 12th, being at its height on the 11th. This is the regular disturbance of Vulcan, and will bring snow in the North and West, followed by blizzards and cold winds.

The last and most severe snowstorm period for January lasts from the 22d to the 25th, and the warning of this period is sharp and clear. The forecaster says this will be the most severe period of the winter, beginning on the 22d, with rains and winds in the West, followed by cold, bleak, sleety weather, severely hard on stock and people, and likely to be widely extended over all the West and Northwest.

A cold snap of extreme severity will follow these sleets, and much suffering to stock on unprotected ranges and ranches will result. The coldest rains of the winter will fall, accompanied by high, chilling winds, and according to the forecaster, this will be the culmination of winter severity in the Northwest.

February will have but little stormy weather in the West, according to the almanac. From the 8th to the 11th, will appear the first period of any severity, but that will be mild compared to the last period in January. On the 13th and 16th, will come the last period of any note. Storms of snow and wind will visit the northwest regions, and some marked blizzard conditions will prevail. Then the month takes a turn for the warmer and extends into the balmy March sunshine and showers.

OLDEST CLOCK IN ENGLAND.

Erected in 1320 in One of the Towers of Peterborough Cathedral.

Peterborough cathedral has the oldest working clock in England. It was erected about 1320 and is probably the work of a monastic clockmaker. It is the only one now known that is wound up over an old wooden wheel. This wheel is about twelve feet in circumference, and the galvanized cable, about 300 feet in length, supports a leaden weight of three hundredweight, which has to be wound up daily.

The clock is said to be of much more primitive construction than that made by Henry de Nick for Charles V. of France in 1370. The clock chamber is in the northwest tower, some 120 feet high, where the sunlight has not penetrated for hundreds of years, and the winding is done by the light of a candle.

The gong is the great tenor bell of the cathedral, which weighs thirty-two hundredweight, and it is struck hourly by an eighty pound hammer. The going and the striking parts of the clock are some yards apart, communication being by a slender wire. The clock has no dial. The time is shown on the main wheel of the escapement, which goes round once in two hours.—London Chronicle.

THE TOWER OF HUNGER.

A Famous Prison of Pisa Long Since Destroyed.

"The Tower of Hunger" was a name given to the tower of Gualandri, in Pisa, celebrated because of the reference made to it in Dante's "Inferno."

Ugolino, count of Gherardesca (1220-80), was the head of a leading Ghibelline family in Pisa. Deserting the Ghibellines, he went over to the Guelphs. Afterward he returned to his own side and joined that uncompromising faction which regarded Archbishop Ruggieri as their head, until dissensions arose between him and them after he had killed the archbishop's nephew in a quarrel.

In the summer of 1288 Ugolino was seized by the Ghibellines and sent a prisoner to the tower of Gualandri, with his two sons and two grandsons. Here they were kept till March, 1289, when the door of the tower was fastened, the keys thrown into the Arno and the prisoners left to die of starvation. The tower, which was ever after known as the "Tower of Hunger," was in ruins at the end of the fifteenth century and was finally destroyed in 1655.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Pendleton and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Pendleton reader

Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Fred Noble, who lives at 219 Coable street, says: "I was troubled for three or four years with my back and kidneys, and was oppressed with a tired feeling all the time. My back commenced to ache whenever I did the least amount of work around the house that compelled me to lift anything or stoop over. The kidneys were irregular and annoyed me, especially if I caught cold. I felt sleepy or drowsy all the time. I used many different medicines, some of which helped me, and some of which did not. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended that I went to the Brock & McComas drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and did me more good than anything of the kind I had ever used. I am feeling better since the treatment than I had in a long, long time before, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
